ARIZONA WOMEN LAWYERS ASSOCIATION
HONORS PIMA COUNTY ATTORNEY'S CHIEF DEPUTY

(Tucson, Arizona) – Barbara LaWall, Pima County Attorney, is pleased to announce that Amelia Craig Cramer, Chief Deputy Pima County Attorney, has been recognized by the Arizona Women Lawyers Association (AWLA) for her commitment to the advancement of women in the legal profession. Amelia Cramer received the 2010 Sarah Herring Sorin Award on June 11, 2010 during the Arizona State Bar's Annual Convention in Glendale, Arizona.

The award is named in honor of Sarah Herring Sorin, Arizona's first woman lawyer, and every year the AWLA recognizes a member who has demonstrated support and encouragement for the advancement of women in the legal profession.

Barbara LaWall said: "Amelia is very deserving of this award. Her sincere belief in the intrinsic value of every individual drives her to fight for women's rights and be an advocate for women. She is committed to the advancement of women in the legal profession and has been instrumental in helping women discover and develop the qualities they need to advance and become effective leaders in the Pima County Attorney's Office and in the legal profession."
